Problem: Many large jigs, CNCs, and planers are expensive and space consuming.

New and inexpensive options are now available to level and flatten wood or slab surfaces. Home-made jigs can also offer a good possibility.

What's out there? Bring your jig, video, pictures or plans to share if you have one.

Demonstration on Woodpeckers Rout-N-Plane ($179.99)

October 14th 'Raffle or Sell'

Bring in an unwanted tool, wood, whatever to donate to our sale or raffle to support the guild.

October 14th 'Show and Tell'

All are encouraged to share your latest project or creation with us! Big or small, any condition.

President's Corner

by Les Derusha

President's Corner

When you work near the ceiling of your shop do you notice any fine sawdust? If you don't, I'm guessing your shop isn't used much. The greatest generators of this sawdust are your saws, routers and sanders, any tool that creates fine sawdust. How does it get there, through the air, the same stuff you breathe? What will it do to you?

COPD - Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease is an umbrella term used to describe progressive lung diseases including emphysema, chronic bronchitis, and refractory (non-reversible) asthma. This disease is characterized by increasing breathlessness. This is something usually associated with Coal miners. News Flash!, it also happens to woodworkers! This dust settles in your lungs, and the problems begin.

How to protect yourself, use a dust mask while cutting and sanding, particularly on exotic woods and wood products that contain resins, like MDF. Also spraying creates stuff that shouldn't be in your lungs.

Find a mask you will wear, if it's uncomfortable or bulky or difficult you probably won't use it. Find one you can live with and use it. Store it in your shop where it's convenient and visible. Remember, you don't want to die wondering where your next breath is coming from.

How to Clear Your Lungs After Inhaling Dust

1. Move to a clean, dust-free environment
2. Cough to expel dust particles
3. Blow your nose
4. Use a humidifier
5. Stay well-hydrated
6. Rest your body
7. Deep breathing exercises
8. Steam inhalation
9. Use an air purifier at home
10. Avoid further exposure to dust or other irritants
11. Over-the-counter expectorants
12. Use a peak flow meter to monitor your lung function
13. Seek medical advice if symptoms persist
